

Legal disclaimer and contact details

Note:

In order to make the information easier to read, the masculine form "he" has been used in all the information sheets. It goes without saying that we respect the equality of the sexes and that "he" also stands for "she".

Exclusion of liability:

These information sheets have been prepared in all good conscience and checked by lawyers.

For reasons of legal form, the authors and those responsible at the Landesarbeitsgemeinschaft Schuldnerberatung Hessen e.V. (LAG-SB Hessen e.V.) do not accept any liability for the content of the published information sheets. In particular they accept no liability for the correctness and completeness or for the information being up-to-date. No claims of any kind whatsoever may be asserted.

Copyright:

Copyright for all texts, visuals, pictures, design and the source code remains the property of LAG-SB Hessen e.V.

The information sheets may be given to private third parties free of charge. The distribution and duplication of information sheets (or parts of them) is expressly permitted, provided the source is quoted.

However, the information sheets may not be used without the logo or with a different logo.

The distribution and duplication of the information sheets (or parts of them) for other purposes, in other electronic or printed publications or their publication (including Internet publication) is only permitted subject to prior consent.

The use of the information sheets for commercial purposes is expressly forbidden.
